

EANGUS

A Proud Name – A Dedicated Service

PURPOSE... The Enlisted Association of the National Guard of the United States (EANGUS) is organized in the fifty-five states and territories and National Capitol area. Its objective is to further the interests of enlisted personnel of the Army and Air National Guard through the legislative process and to administer the support services necessary to carry out that objective.

HOW WE BEGAN... The Enlisted Association of the National Guard of the United States (EANGUS) was conceived in 1970 when a group of enlisted members of the National Guard met to consider ways and means of increasing the voice of enlisted personnel in support of making the Guard a more effective arm of National Defense. As a result of these early meetings, the formal organization of EANGUS was accomplished in 1972 with twenty-three states signing on as charter members. In the ensuing fifteen years, charters have been granted to all 55 states and territories. EANGUS today is a national organization in every respect, with the national headquarters and full-time staff situated in Alexandria VA.

AREA VII... EANGUS is composed of seven areas. Area VII consists of California, Washington, Oregon, Hawaii, Alaska, and Guam. Once a year an Area VII Caucus meeting is held in a host state, usually within the first three months of the year. California holds a Spring and Fall meeting alternating between Northern and Southern California. EANGUS annual meeting is held once a year and rotated among the States that bid for the conference, usually in August.

WHO CAN JOIN... EANGUS membership is open to all who share the goals of the Association. Voting annual or life memberships are available to active and retired enlisted members of the National Guard. Others who support the goals and purposes of the Association are eligible for limited non-voting membership regardless of military affiliation.
